

HOW TO MAKE ALABAMA FEED HERSELF PLAN

Speakers for Diversification Have Great Success in Dale County, Says Secretary Thomas of Fair Association.

That the whirlwind campaign now being conducted in the various counties to make Alabama feed herself and keep $90,000,000 at home, is educational, awakening and helpful, is the belief of Secretary Fred H. Thomas, of the Southeast Alabama Fair Association, who was the guest of L. F. Sessions at Ozark yesterday.

Mr. Sessions is engaged extensively in the cattle business, and has cows, goats and various cattle on his large farm near Ozark where one of the fifteen speakers for diversification talked to some 200 farmers. Outside of the speaking, Mr. Sessions had arranged a barbecue, and a great variety of appetizing meats were served. President John Sanders of the Fair Association and Secretary Thomas received invitations to attend, but Mr. Sanders could not get off.

A WHIRLWIND CAMPAIGN FOR CROP DIVERSIFICATION IN HOUSTON COUNTY

COMMITTEES APPOINTED TO LOOK AFTER EVERY DETAIL OF THE WORK.—CROWDS ARE RAISED TO TAKE SPEAKERS INTO EVERY BEAT IN HOUSTON COUNTY ON THURSDAY NEXT.

Farmers Are Urged to Turn Out and Hear These Experts

A whirlwind crop diversification campaign is to be held in Houston county on Thursday the 23rd. Fifteen experts will be carried to every beat in the county and speeches will be made showing the importance of diversification in crops. Houston county is in the boll weevil belt, and this year will see much damage done by this pest. It is good for the farmers to listen to some plan that offers relief. If feed crops are planted, our section will not suffer as it has during the past season.

Following are the committees that have been named by the executive committee to further this work.

Entertainment Committee: W. E. Cannady, chairman; J. S. Jackson, E. O. Jones. Transport Committee: D. W. Baker, C. J. Faulk, L. E. Morgan, H. A. Denton. School Committee: J. V. Brown, O. O. When in doubt—diversify.

In a dead language made of dead letters?

An automobile isn't necessarily a "hoax" because it runs with the spirit.

Stormal violence is the price of liberty and prohibition enforcement.

The Negro don't observe Lent. They haven't even given up the idea of continuing the business.

What do you suppose it would take to make Lacy tell what became of the money?

The state's financial affairs will not be settled until they are set dead right and up.

The Whittaker on the ship bill was a copy of another copy that President Wilson expected.

It would take more than a five foot high shelf to hold all the jobs on the Ford automobile.

"Clarence writing on money machine," a headline informs us. Doesn't interest us as ours is money beyond measure.

When there's a man with soul so dead.

Who's to blame both said: "Prohibition doesn't prohibit."

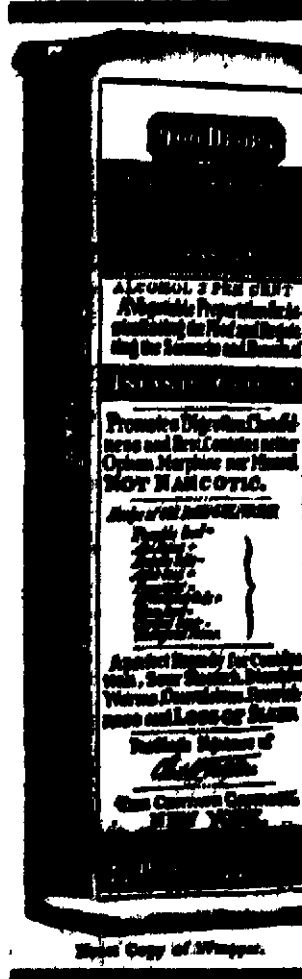

The question is being debated by the press, "Which is worse, the failure of the steam roller or the fact that it is so good for our side if we get it to advantage."

This is about the time when the farmer is thinking on how much of his farm he will plant for six and cotton, and how much he will plant in something else.

As many sweet potatoes as were raised in this section last year, you don't see much signs of them now. They've all been sold, or they rotted one.

The sale of fertilizer will likely be much less this season than it was last. Some moved their cotton seed. Some sold at $12 a ton and others waited and got $20 and $25 a ton.

There has been plenty of cold weather to save all the bugs in the country this season. For two weeks it has been cold enough to keep them from moving, almost. Some winter there isn't much cold weather to save it. The people have a good deal of money, they have been Back Sheriff May Up.

Sheriff May has set out to do his duty. He has set out to fulfill his promises before the election. He was elected on the platform that he would do his duty or resign. He is doing it, so far. He needs now more than any other one thing the backing of Judge Pearce and Governor Henderson.

It is said that some of the blind tiger operators have been into the circuit court and pleaded guilty and paid a low fine, and took a sentence, which was suspended pending good conduct. If they have violated this pledge, it is Judge Pearce's duty to make them serve the sentence without waiting further. If a suspended sentence means anything, that's one of the things. Then, when the blind tiger operators are put on the road, Gov. Henderson, we believe, will do his duty by allowing them to remain there till their sentences have been served out.

Once the law-breaker understands that the courts stand for something, and that the chief executive of the state stands behind the courts, law-violation will be cut down to the minimum.

During Governor O'Neal's administration the law-breaker, or the blind tiger operator, rather had a big chance of being pardoned or paroled soon after he began work, and in many cases, work was never commenced. The convicted tiger was turned loose on the community to ply his trade again. Such will not prevail under the present administration, we believe. We believe Governor Henderson is interested in seeing all citizens obey the laws, and when they do not, he will want to see them punished accordingly.

Then, if Judge Pearce stands the same way, why, this community will change its reputation. It will have a reputation for obeying the laws. It hasn't that reputation now, but the contrary.

Sheriff May has made a good start. He is playing no favorites. He is running in tiger operators who haven't been suffering along this line in the past. He has convicted cases of whiskey that came into Dothan in violation of law, that would make all the old tiger operators are trying to go right along with their business, notwithstanding the law. If he doesn't get convictions in the courts, he will make the business unprofitable by seizing and destroying their stocks, and they will be forced to quit. But it will be much better if all the officials over him will give him proper support.

The People You Use—And Those Who Use You.

In the February American Magazine David Grayson, writing his new story, "Hempfield," presents a character, Ed Smith, whose abilities are partly described in the following passage, taken from the story:

"It was easy for Ed to 'size up' people, for he had just two classifications: those people whom he could use, and those who could use him. His problem of life thus became quite simple: it consisted in shifting as many as possible of those of the second classification into the first."

"If you would not be done by a man, do him first," was one of Ed's treasured Ben Franklinisms.

How many of you people who read magazines, read the ones that carry whiskey advertisements? None of the bigger magazines have carried whiskey advertisements for years, and such periodicals as Judge, Puck and Vogue, don't amount to much in the year's reading. And the news dealer who has lost his business by the whiskey advertising being out, didn't have much of a business to start with. He is in the boat with the saloon man. He can find other profitable occupations. But we haven't heard of any news dealers who will have to go out of business because they cannot sell Life, Puck, Judge Vogue and possibly a few others as useless as those. They are good in their way, but will be just as good without the advertisements of that kind.

Canada is trying to extradite Horn, the German who blew up the bridge over the St. Croix river, but Horn is blowing himself for an attorney and will fight the proceedings.

They are Awful.

In the language of T. M. A. which has been so thoroughly disgusted here of late "Which is the worse, the filibuster, or the steam roller?"

Well, that's a hard question to answer. They are both bad when played on the opposite side of yourself, but they don't look so awful otherwise.

You remember, just the day before the legislature convened we were told that the steam roller if there was one, would be operated by Senator Lewis and E. Johnston. Since that guess was so badly missed, there is no accounting for anything any more.

An Excellent Bill.

The legislator who introduced a bill to prevent bulls from running at large must own a China shop—Dothan Eagle.

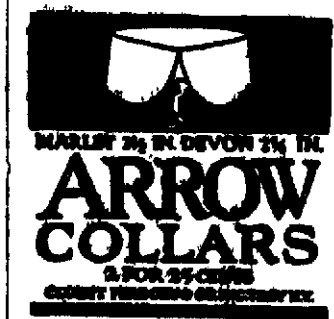

That sounds well and kill space for the paragrapher, but the fact is, it is a most excellent bill and its passage is demanded by every stock owner and raiser in Alabama. It is absolutely necessary to guarantee pure stock to which so much attention is now being given in all this section. Montgomery Times.

There may be some new way of raising taxes or making people give their property in for what they should, but hardly any method could be so unfair as the back tax commission way of doing it. The design of the law was good but it was imposed upon because it had the fee system attached and few people will regret that the office has been abolished.

Bill Brandon said that the solvent law would make it possible for one to tax a one-eyed mule enough to pay the national debt. The solvent credit law was killed along with a few others that needed killing.

More Liquor Cases.

Ben Payne was arrested yesterday in two cases charging violation of the prohibition laws. Caroline Epps, a negro was arrested on a similar charge.

LITTLE LINDEN IN FIRE INSURANCE

Under the above caption we will use these columns each week, assuming that every property owner in Dothan is interested in this very important subject.

A wise man has said: "If it's worth having, it's worth insuring. If you are not able to pay the premiums you are not able to own the property."

Big business men recognize the correctness of this statement and the necessity of insurance. Hence the startling figures; more money is paid for insurance premiums each year than the total freight and passenger receipts of all the railroads combined.

It is not however, our purpose to convince you of the necessity of insuring but to discuss the best methods of insuring.

In Alabama the rates for both business and residence property are made by a board of underwriters, organized and financed by the Insurance Companies authorized by law to transact business within the State.

This board employs expert men to compile these rates, which are issued in pamphlet form. Every local insurance agent is sent one of these pamphlets, which give the street number of the property, the owner, and the rate at which it must be written. Every policy written must run through the hands of this rate making board that they may see that the proper rate has been used.

It will, therefore, be seen that no agent can write a policy at a lower rate than his competitor. Large companies, small companies, strong companies and weak companies all charge the same rate.

Two thousand insurance companies have failed or retired from business in the last forty years.

Lesson No. 1.

SOLDIERS FEEL GOOD TO SOLDIERS IN ICY POLAND

Some strange that the war is most active in the theatre of war where the climate now is severe. But such is the case, and it is in East Prussia and in Poland, and in the alpine regions mountain passes that most activities are noted. The photograph shows a group of soldiers collected about a camp fire in Poland. Fires are few and far between as the night, and the smoke in the daytime, betray the presence of men. So the soldiers appreciate when they are permitted to build one.

SOCIETY NEWS

THE DOTHAN EAGLE, DOTHAN, ALA. TELEPHONE 644

Miss Annie Dickerson of Greenwood, Fla., is the guest of Mrs. J. T. Trawick.

Art Notes—

Montgomery Journal.

The late winter has witnessed an awakening of more than the usual amount of interest in art circles of the north. Several very wonderful and almost priceless collections are on display in Gotham and many who journey annually to Europe to view the art treasures of the world are going to New York instead.

French Tapestry of Vicomte Aignoux

More than a score of antique French tapestries are contained in the collection of the Vicomte Aignoux of Calvados, France, says the New York Herald, which was placed on view in the Fifth Avenue Art Galleries, No. 1 West Forty-fifth street.

Along the Road.

A mile with flowers, scattered all the way, and some the winter I had to say.

WASHING WON'T RID HEAD OF DANDRUFF

Disolve It, That's Best Way.

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you want to preserve your hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair more quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everyone notices it. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

even The girls who go over there get into an atmosphere that is bad morally, intellectually and musically. They do things that their mothers would spank them for if they did at home, and they think they are leading a Bohemian life.

"You can't make music by sitting in a cafe and smoking cigarettes. You can't make music by living in the atmosphere of a third class boarding house, either. The only way to make music is to get off into a quiet room by yourself and think about it."

Effrem Zimbalist, Alma Gluck's husband, is another "made in America" product. He is a wizard on the violin. "And I learned to play," he said, "by studying at home."

Zimbalist is 26 years old and his wife is 28. They are the youngest stars in the musical world.—Atlanta Georgian

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY OBSERVED AT CAPITAL

Washington Feb. 22.—George Washington's birth anniversary was celebrated today in every department of the capital.

President Wilson attended exercises under the auspices of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Sons of the Revolution and the Sons of the American Revolution, and while he was an interested listener for two hours, he did not make an address. Senator Townsend was the principal speaker there.

Washington's farewell address was read in the senate by Senator Robert Taft. All the executive departments were closed.

LACY BEGINS SERVING HIS 10-YEAR SENTENCE

Montgomery, Feb. 22.—Theo Lacy, former chief clerk of the state convict bureau, began serving a ten year sentence in the Alabama state prison at Wetumpka today, the state court of appeals having recently affirmed a conviction on a charge of embezzling $50,000.

Before entering the penitentiary, Lacy issued a statement asserting his belief that he would ultimately prove his innocence of any unlawful intent. His unbroken silence has been a shield for certain friends, he declared.

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months."

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

At all druggists.

MADE USE OF UNDERSTUDY

Both a German Emperor and a Russian Czar Frequently Employed Cardui.

In a land of distrust like Russia it is only natural that the precautions taken should be of the most drastic order, hence the use of the royal understudy who has always been a conspicuous figure at that court. Indeed, it was the understudy of the late Czar Alexander III—a man named Komaroff—who was murdered in Moscow some years ago, when the murderer thought he had covered himself with glory by assassinating the czar.

Nicholas, like his father before him, has an understudy, and the many state functions he is supposed to have attended at the opening of his reign, when the relations with his people were more strained than they are today, really were attended for the most part by proxy.

No monarch, however, made such frequent use of his understudy as the late Emperor William of Germany. Every day as the clock struck twelve the emperor came out and bowed on the palace balcony. It was not until some time after the emperor's demise that the secret was made known that the man who appeared daily on the balcony was the royal understudy. And the person who gave the secret away was the great Bismarck.

WAR HAS SPARED CARUSO

Famous Tenor So Far Exempt, but Always at the Service of His Country.

Caruso's apartment in his New York hotel was filled with flowers on the night of his return from abroad. He seemed glad to be back. He was proud that he had spent 35 days in the Italian army. He is forty-one years old and got exemption papers to come over here.

"If my country needs my arms," said the tenor, standing in the middle of his room, and waving his own, "I am ready."

He said he sang October 19 in Florence for the benefit of refugees and the receipts were 35,000 francs. He added that his voice is all right, but that he has suffered all summer with headaches.

"Too much vacation," he laughed. "I didn't sing in Germany this year and it gave me too much time."

"I spent a lot of my time giving away bread and money," he continued. "The people came in streams to my country estate. On one farm near Florence there are 29 families, with an average of nine children to a family."

SAME THING.

"He is losing ground on that venture."

"Yes; he seems to be completely lost."

HIS HABIT.

"He simply devours continued stories, doesn't he?"

"Yes; always begins the day with a cereal."

THEIR TENDENCY.

"Don't you think prize fights have a deteriorating effect on society?"

"Well, they do have something of a knock-out tendency that way."

ACCOUNTED FOR.

"What a very open countenance your friend has?"

"That's because he won't keep his mouth shut."

HIS METHOD.

"That milkman declared he would be his own lawyer."

"I suppose he thought he ought to know how to pump witnesses."

THE ONLY WAY.

"How do you suppose the evils of working heels can be corrected?"

"Only by inducing fashion to come out flat-footed for reform."

RECOMMEND THE UNDERSTUDY.

And—Well, why don't you say good-bye, then?

Good-bye.

DE WET AS A

Great General: General De Wet, the first to come into prominence, although it should not be forgotten that in the first Boer war in 1897 he fought at Ingogo and Majuba, and subsequently in the Transvaal parliament.

His guerrilla tactics during the South African war were responsible for many Boer successes, and it was a British general who said of him: "He appears always where he is thought not to be."

One of the best stories of De Wet is that told concerning three Ye-mans officers who were captured by him near Lindley. De Wet told them that he had an important dispatch for General Buller, and if they would undertake to deliver it they would be liberated. All three gave their word of honor to deliver the letter into General Buller's own hands. They duly performed their mission, and got much laughed at for their pains. The letter ran as follows:

"Dear Sir—Please chain up these three men, as I can catch them every day.—Yours, De Wet."

TAKES PORTRAITS IN COLORS

New Process Which Its Inventors Believe Will Secure the Desired Results.

A new process is now announced which it is claimed gives remarkably perfect results, and is simple enough for practical commercial purposes, although not suited for amateur work. This process is stated to be a modification of the Ives three-color process, except that only two colors are used, red and green. Two negatives are taken in a special camera, or in a regular camera using color screens. These negatives are so treated with dyes that the coloring matter replaces the silver in the film, and the plate becomes its own positive. The two plates are superimposed, and mounted in a frame so constructed that an electric light may be placed behind the picture, which is to be viewed by transmitted light.—Scientific American.

FURTHER USE FOR X-RAYS

It has been discovered that in addition to the well-known uses of X-rays in the medical world, both for photographic purposes and for the treatment of certain complaints, other fields of application may be found in botany and biology. Photographs can be obtained showing the various stages of development of plants or animals, and it is possible to observe the gradual formation of a chicken inside the egg. It is interesting to note that while diamonds are practically transparent to the rays, counterfeit stones are almost opaque.

EMULATION.

"What a beautiful ring!"

"Yes," said Miss Cayenne. It was an engagement ring. But the engagement is broken."

"Aren't you going to send it back?"

"Of course. But I want to keep it long enough to let the next gentleman who is expected to live up to it."

A BETTER WORD.

"This is a dignified way to put it."

"How's that?"

"This general says he didn't retreat. When the firing got too hot he withdrew."

NATURAL CURIOUS.

"Maybe I should when she found I was trying to send her home."

"Well, maybe, maybe, but I think they're just getting started."

BY DISCREETNESS.

"The old story of our next next to be in the market."

"That's the way in the time spent in the market."

RECOMMEND THE UNDERSTUDY.

And—Well, why don't you say good-bye, then?

Good-bye.
